

Data protection

All data is held securely by the University of Northampton, Alumni Development office and will be treated confidentially and with sensitivity for the benefit of the University and its members. Unless you tell us otherwise, the data may be made available to our academic and administrative departments, recognised alumni groups and societies and a full range of University activities including the sending of alumni and University publications, the promotion of benefits and services available to alumni, notification of alumni and University events and friend finding. In the future, data may also be used for University fund raising programmes.

Data will not be disclosed to external organisations, other than those acting as agents for the University on alumni related projects. The University may also provide information to certain external surveying companies working on behalf of such organisations as the Higher Educational Survey Agency (HESA) or University funding bodies. Under the terms of the 1998 Data Protection Act you have the right to object to the use of your data for any of the above purposes. To do this, or to have your name removed from the database, please inform the Alumni Office.
