Preparation for interview and the interview day

During the interview, you will be asked to discuss an article relating to nursing, to teach a non-clinical skill and undertake a computer test. This is then followed by a mini multiple interview.

1) Discuss an article relating to nursing

Be prepared to discuss an article of your choosing that relates to adult nursing, justifying its selection and your thoughts on its content.

2) Teach a non-clinical skill

You are asked to demonstrate sharing information on a non-clinical skill purposefully with colleagues. The duration is 6 minutes.

This can relate to any topic which you are comfortable to teach. Please select a topic which shows sensitivity and respect for your colleagues, remembering that like your patients, colleagues will originate from diverse backgrounds.

Your non-clinical skill should be short and simple, require little equipment (as you will have to bring it with you), and enable a colleague to demonstrate the skill back to you.

The steps to teaching a skill:

- Tell them what they are going to learn.
- Show them how it's done.
- Let them do it.
- Review how they did.

3) The Digital Literacy Test

The digital literacy test is for you to demonstrate your computer and IT skills. You will be provided with a laptop and given a set task. This is an opportunity for you to demonstrate your digital / IT skills by completing a short exercise on a laptop, lasting approximately 5 minutes. Please let us know if you need reasonable adjustment made for this task (more information at the end of this document).

4) Video

Please also watch this video before your interview about the vision for Nursing, Midwifery and Healthcare.
