Chancellor's welcome.

It is my great pleasure to welcome graduands and guests to the University of Northampton Award Ceremonies 2022. It is an honour and privilege for me to be Chancellor of the University and I would, therefore, like to add my personal and warmest congratulations to the graduands on this landmark achievement. The recognition that this award ceremony gives is theirs alone, in that without their efforts we could not be here. Well done every single one of you.

The Award Ceremonies are not only the culmination of the graduand's learning and recognise the achievement of their qualification, but also celebrate the support and counsel provided to them by staff of the University, fellow graduands and their family and friends. We welcome these family members and friends to the University, some of whom may have travelled considerable distances to join us here today, and hope that everyone will enjoy the ceremonies, the hospitality and being part, albeit for a short time, of the wider University community.

A word for our graduands - I know you will have had new experiences, opportunities and much inspiration during your studies. Whatever the future holds for you now, whether it's further study, or entering or returning to the world of work, may I wish you every success.

The Reverend Richard Coles
Chancellor
The University of Northampton

The Reverend Richard Coles The Chancellor.

Reverend Richard Coles was born in Northampton and educated at Wellingborough School and later King's College London, where he studied Theology. He holds an MA by research from the University of Leeds.

Ordained in 2005, Reverend Coles is the former Vicar of St Mary the Virgin in Finedon in the Diocese of Peterborough. He combined this with a career as a radio broadcaster and television presenter. He co-presents BBC Radio 4's Saturday Live show and is a regular guest on flagship television shows such as Have I Got News for You and QI.

Reverend Coles was a contestant on the BBC's Strictly Come Dancing in 2017. Since 2014 he has appeared regularly in the Pause for Thought slot on the BBC Radio 2 Breakfast Show and in the summer of 2016 took part in the BBC's prime-time programme Celebrity Masterchef. Most recently he co-presented The Big Painting Challenge on BBC One. Reverend Coles was also one half of the 1980s popular music duo, The Communards, with whom he had three top ten hits.

In addition, he has a keen interest in social enterprise, particularly in the field of housing. He serves as a board member of Wellingborough Homes, which provides social and affordable housing in the area.

To date, Reverend Coles has published six books, two volumes of autobiography, Fathomless Riches and Bringing in the Sheaves, a personal account of life after grief, The Madness of Grief, two volumes of the lives of lesser-known saints, Lives of the Improbable Saints and Legends of the Improbable Saints and a novel, Murder before Evensong.

Reverend Coles received an honorary doctorate from the University in 2012.

Vice Chancellor's Welcome.

I join the Chancellor in welcoming you most warmly to these Awards Ceremonies.

The University of Northampton, through its antecedent institutions, has a long and distinguished history and today is a vibrant institution with over 14,000 students from over 100 countries around the world, 2,000 staff and an annual turnover of over £125m.

In addition to extensive undergraduate, postgraduate and research degrees, the University offers professional training in a wide range of disciplines related to the employment needs of the region. We welcome part-time students and adult learners undertaking professional and career development. We are committed to working in strategic partnership with a diverse range of organisations in support of those able to benefit from higher education.

In 2013, we were recognised worldwide for our social enterprise endeavours through the award of Ashoka U Changemaker Campus status, the first in the UK and one of only two institutions in Europe. This puts us on a par with Ivy League institutions in the United States who also hold this accolade.

Our research output, a vital component underpinning a quality student experience, continues to grow, as does our income generated from enterprise and other commercial activities. At the same time wider engagement by staff in outward-facing activity enables them to remain at the cutting edge of their subject areas. Finally, from a position of privilege as the only university in the County, we would like to acknowledge the generous support shown to us by our alumni and friends over the past year.

These Award Ceremonies are primarily occasions of great personal significance to our students, together with their families and friends, but they are also academic and civic ceremonies, which are of considerable importance to our town and County.

I hope that you will all – our graduates, friends and families, and the many guests of the University of Northampton – enjoy these ceremonies and take pride in the achievement of our students and our University.

Professor Anne-Marie Kilday
Vice Chancellor
The University of Northampton

Anne-Marie Kilday The Vice Chancellor.

Professor Anne-Marie Kilday is Vice Chancellor and Professor of Criminal History at the University of Northampton.

She writes and researches on various aspects of criminal history, particularly focusing on violent behaviour and gendered criminality.

Professor Kilday started her academic career in Scotland working at the University of Strathclyde and then the University of Glasgow. She joined Oxford Brookes University in 2000 as a Lecturer in Early Modern History and progressed her career at the University securing various promotions from Principal Lecturer through to Dean. She was promoted into the senior leadership team becoming the Pro Vice-Chancellor for Research and Knowledge Transfer and Impact in 2012 and then became Pro Vice-Chancellor Student Experience & University Community, with institutional responsibility for all aspects of both student and staff experience in 2018 and continued in that role until she left for the University.

Anne-Marie enjoys supporting Oxford United and Celtic football clubs, playing table tennis, reading true crime and crime fiction, and chasing after her three cats Duncan, Angus and Rori.

David Laing Pro Chancellor.

David was born into the Laing construction family. He qualified as an architect and subsequently worked with Sir Basil Spence's London firm before setting up a private practice in Hertfordshire, as well as becoming a partner in GHM Rock Townsend.

With his knowledge of the construction industry, David became chairman of Country and Metropolitan and has been a director of Eskmuir, a quoted property company which was taken private and is the Laing family's property vehicle. As well as being a director of a number of private companies, he has served as a trustee, Chairman, or President, of many charities including the Northamptonshire Community Foundation, the Northamptonshire Association of Youth Clubs and Adrenaline Alley, the biggest urban sports park in the UK.

David was Lord Lieutenant of Northamptonshire from 2014 to 2020.

He has had experience in the leisure sector, as well as agriculture, being hands-on at his farm at Brigstock, Northamptonshire. He has been living in the county for over ten years and is committed to making it known as the Heart of England.

Sue Dutton The Chair, Board of Governors.

Sue Dutton has extensive teaching and managerial experience in education. She began her professional career teaching English in secondary schools and held a number of senior posts before moving into higher education.

At the Open University she was appointed to senior administrative roles in Student Services and the Vice-Chancellor's Office before becoming Director of Strategy, Planning and Resources in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. She now works as a counsellor and psychotherapist.

Her academic research interests focus on the factors that attract and retain young students at the Open University.

The History of the University of Northampton.

Between 1261 and 1265, Northampton was sanctioned by Henry III as an alternative place of study for hundreds of students displaced from Oxford and Cambridge universities during a period of civil unrest. Had it not been for a mischievous complaint to the King that the creation of a rival university would dilute the quality of education at Oxford, Northampton might have been England's third university.

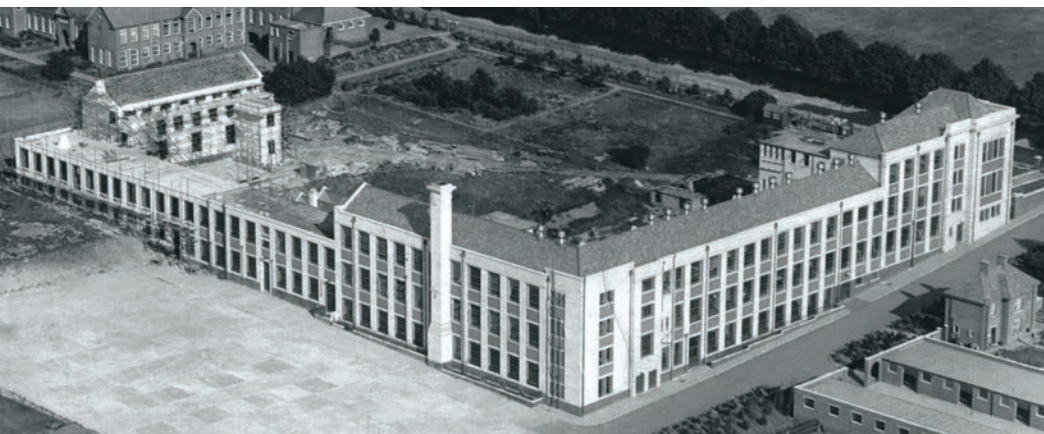

The contemporary University of Northampton's roots lies firmly in the late 19th century, when new educational initiatives in science, technology and art education were developed to help support the needs of the region's industries. Science and technology found their first formal home in the old Northampton Grammar School premises at Abington Square in 1911, while art settled in nearby premises in Abington Street.

By 1924 plans were underway for a purpose-built College of Technology on St George's Avenue Campus, which formally opened in 1932. The College of Art opened a purpose-built wing at the same site in 1937. At the time it was hoped this would be a basis for the beginnings of a university in Northampton, realising a long unfulfilled hope of restoring the fledgling 13th century university.

Although the St George's Avenue Campus had to wait 70 years to see university status realised, the intervening decades provided strong foundations for today's University. This included the provision of part-time study towards degree qualifications under the auspices of first Cambridge, and then Leicester University.

However, by the early 1970s Northamptonshire found itself one of only three counties in England that didn't have a teacher training college. Although in a strong position to achieve this, it was felt that a stronger case could be made by amalgamation with an already established college. The opportunity which presented itself was a Liverpool college that had been made homeless after the Ministry of Defence reclaimed the site on which it had been established.

The Liverpool partner was Kirkby Fields College of Education. Effectively relocated 120 miles, and combined with the emerging Northampton College, the joint venture found a home at Moulton Park in 1972.

To offset lean years in national teacher training provision, the Education College had to diversify, and the first stage was amalgamation with the Technical and Arts Colleges on St George's Avenue, Northampton, to form Nene College in 1975. In 1978 the National Leathersellers' Centre relocated to Northampton, and in 1981 the Blackwood Hodge (later Sunley) Management Centre opened.

The name chosen for the college was significant. The River Nene flowed through both town and county and was a link with the world beyond. It provided a strong sense of unification, which has continued in the University crest. Even after the Privy Council agreed the new institutional title of University College Northampton in February 1999, this unifying concept continued, binding the rising University to the enterprise and endeavour of Northampton and Northamptonshire.

In the early 1990s Nene acquired the last of its core subject areas: Health. As far back as 1981 it had acquired some health education from Milton Keynes College, and the School of Podiatry in 1989. In 1993 the college added St Andrew's School of Occupational Therapy, and in 1994, the Sir Gordon Roberts College of Nursing and Midwifery.

In August 2005 University College Northampton confirmed that it was to be awarded formal university status and full research degree awarding powers, becoming the University of Northampton. This development followed years of extensive work by staff across all levels at the University.

Today the University of Northampton looks forward to a bright future. In September 2018, the University welcomed the first cohort of students at the new, purpose-built Waterside Campus, having combined the learning, teaching and research facilities from the former two campuses to a new location in Northampton town centre, as part of the Northampton Waterside Enterprise Zone. As the county's only dedicated provider of higher education, the institution continues to build on its already well-established legacy by offering a complete educational, consultancy and research provision – from foundation and undergraduate level, through to postgraduate and doctoral qualifications.

The Honorands.

Conferment of an Honorary Doctorate

Dame Ann Limb will be presented by Professor Eunice Lumsden at the ceremony on Tuesday 15 November at 10.45am

Dame Ann Limb is a British educationalist, business leader, charity chair and philanthropist. From 1976 until 2001, Dame Ann had a career in further education and became the youngest ever further education college Principal at Milton Keynes College in 1987. After a decade, she moved to Cambridge Regional College, serving as Principal until 2000. She then took up the post as Chief Executive for University for Industry, Ufi. From 2005 to 2011, Dame Ann was the Chair of the Milton Keynes Partnership and a Ministerial appointee to the Board of Homes England. From 2011 to 2019, Dame Ann was chair of South East Midlands Local Enterprise Partnership (SEMLEP) which includes Northamptonshire. In September 2015, she became the first woman Chair of The Scout Association since the organisation was founded by Robert Baden Powell in 1907. Dame Ann is Chair of Milton Keynes International Festival, a multi-arts festival that engages people with music and sound in unusual spaces and places. The biennial festival, founded in 2010, runs for 10 days in July across central Milton Keynes. From 2014-2021, Ann sat on the Arts Council England South East Regional Council and led the bid for Milton Keynes to be European Capital of Culture in 2023. In 1998 Dame Ann founded the Helena Kennedy Foundation, a social mobility charity supporting access to higher education. In 2019, Ann was named in the Northern Power Women 2019 Power List as an inspiring role model and agent of change, rooted in the North of England. In the same year she was also celebrated as number one LGBTQ+ public sector role model on the 2019 "OUTstanding LGBT+ Role Model Lists", supported by Yahoo Finance and published annually by diversity charity INvolve. Dame Ann was awarded her damehood in the 2022 Birthday Honours List.

Conferment of an Honorary Doctorate

Dr John Hare will be presented by Aidan Ward at the ceremony on Tuesday 15 November at 2:30pm

Dr John Hare is a retired consultant anaesthetist from Northampton General Hospital who has supported the Paramedic Science programme at the University since it started in 2006. Dr Hare's involvement and contribution has been both varied and extensive. He has mentored and supervised paramedic students in theatres undertaking their placements in that clinical area, which has also involved a considerable amount of organisation related to supporting those opportunities. Additionally, Dr Hare has delivered theoretical teaching sessions to students on the University campus as well as supporting practical and simulation-based sessions. The expertise and experience he has brought to those taught sessions has been invaluable and the student feedback exceptionally positive. Most recently the COVID-19 pandemic caused major changes to students' placement opportunities. As the effects of this pandemic started to subside, Dr Hare was able to support those students by helping develop alternate learning and assessment opportunities. This allowed them to continue their education and complete their studies, as the operating theatre environment was significantly impacted in terms of student placement capacity. More broadly he has also been a great advocate for paramedics and has always provided wise and thoughtful advice to the paramedic teaching team at the university. Dr Hare has provided much of this support in his own time, often calling in to the university to meet with the teaching team and see students in the educational setting.

Conferment of an Honorary Fellowship

Jacqui Marshall will be presented by Dr Scott Bradley at the ceremony on Wednesday 16 November at 5:30pm

When Jacquie Marshall first took charge of a stopwatch at one of her sons' swimming lessons in 1994, little did she realise the long, diverse and highly successful road it would lead her down in the world of aquatics sport to the highest level. For over 25 years, Jacquie progressed through the coaching ranks to become Director of Swimming at Northampton Swimming Club in 2008, guiding athletes along the Paralympic and Olympic Pathways to a host of international medals at senior and junior level including Paralympic gold, and now Performance Pathway Lead for Paralympic British Swimming. Among her Northampton successes are Paralympic champion Ellie Robinson, double Tokyo Paralympic and Birmingham Commonwealth Games gold medallist, world record holder and University student Maisie Summers-Newton and European Junior medallist Ed Mildred. While previous alumni include Athens Olympian Caitlin McClatchley and butterfly specialist Aaron Wiles, who competed for England at the 1998 Commonwealth Games.

Conferment of an Honorary Master of Arts
Rowena Bird will be presented by Ewan Tracey at the ceremony on Thursday 17 November at 2:30pm

Born in Northampton, Rowena Bird is the co-founder of LUSH which was launched in 1981 on the premise of cruelty free and environmentally friendly cosmetics and is now an organisation with over 12,000 staff and £500million turnover. Starting her professional career as a Beauty Therapist, Rowena relocated to Poole supporting the fledging business by mixing henna, typing invoices and washing hair. This attitude to work has meant Rowena has embraced many opportunities including (but too many to list) the launch of a makeup brand B Never Too Busy To Be Beautiful, opening key shops for Lush, visiting nearly all of our Partner markets, and creating business direction with her fellow board members. Rowena has spent several years of her career campaigning for reduced plastics and kinder practices in the cosmetics industry. She has also moved her attention to litter with the aim of removing 60 tonnes of rubbish from beaches or parks coining the hashtag #plasticgrab Rowena is also a judge on the Great British entrepreneur awards and is an inventor of Lush products.

Welcome to your Alumni Association.

Congratulations, you did it. You've finally completed your studies and have automatically earned your access to all the UON Alumni Plus services.

Our goal is simple: to provide you with everything you need to help navigate your life after graduation. Check out some of the bits we have available for you below.

Your career support

We're here for you as a go-getter, stepping onto the first rungs of your career ladder, and we'll be here when you're looking to make your next big move. You've earned access to our careers services and employment advice for life.

Don't stop now

You're now eligible for 20% discount on postgraduate study at the University of Northampton. If you're not quite ready to leave us yet, come and study a Master's! There's more information available online at northampton.ac.uk/postgraduate/.

Keep in touch

You will have found friends for life over the course of your studies. So we are on hand to help you stay in contact with your classmates or lecturers. # Coat of Arms

The themes associated with the Coat of arms are essentially concerned with the physical location of the University within the Borough of Northampton and the County of Northamptonshire, together with the central activities of the University.

The Borough is depicted in the left-hand supporter, a lion rampant, and in the central triple-turreted castle. It is also evident in the similar castle footstools for both supporters. The Main County reference is in the right-hand supporter of a bull with a golden chain and is depicted in the Tudor rose held by the roebuck. The County colours of blue, green and silver are also a feature of the Coat of Arms.

The linking of Borough and County through the imagery of the River Nene is strongly pursued with two horizontal representations of the river, one on the central shield and one below the supporters.

The University's activities are reflected in the central feature of books of learning and the vocational technology perspective is illustrated by linked cogwheels. The University's concern with learning is nicely encapsulated in the motto 'Ne Nesciamus' - Let us not be ignorant'. The first four letters spelling Nene, for Nene College, an antecedent institution title of the University of Northampton.

Finally, The University's long association with the Worshipful Company of Leathersellers is depicted by the inclusion of the roebuck from its own coat of arms.
