Chancellor's Welcome.

It is my great pleasure to welcome graduands and guests to the University of Northampton Award Ceremonies 2024. It is an honour and privilege for me to be Chancellor of the University and I would, therefore, like to add my personal and warmest congratulations to the graduands on this landmark achievement. The recognition that this award ceremony gives is theirs alone, in that without their efforts we could not be here. Well done every single one of you.

The Award Ceremonies are not only the culmination of the graduand's learning and recognise the achievement of their qualification, but also celebrate the support and counsel provided to them by staff of the University, fellow graduands and their family and friends. We welcome these family members and friends to the University, some of whom may have travelled considerable distances to join us here today, and hope that everyone will enjoy the ceremonies, the hospitality and being part, albeit for a short time, of the wider University community.

A word for our graduands - I know you will have had new experiences, opportunities and much inspiration during your studies. Whatever the future holds for you now, whether it's further study, or entering or returning to the world of work, may I wish you every success.

Reverend Richard Coles
Chancellor

The University of Northampton

Vice Chancellor's Welcome.

I join the Chancellor in welcoming you most warmly to these Awards Ceremonies.

The University of Northampton, through its antecedent institutions, has a long and distinguished history and today is a vibrant institution with over 14,000 students from over 100 countries around the world, 2,000 staff and an annual turnover of almost £180m.

In addition to extensive undergraduate, postgraduate and research degrees, the University offers professional training in a wide range of disciplines related to the employment needs of the region. We welcome part-time students and adult learners undertaking professional and career development. We are committed to working in strategic partnership with a diverse range of organisations in support of those able to benefit from higher education.

Our research output, a vital component underpinning a quality student experience, continues to grow, as does our income generated from enterprise and other commercial activities. At the same time wider engagement by staff in outward-facing activity enables them to remain at the cutting edge of their subject areas. Finally, from a position of privilege as the only university in the County, we would like to acknowledge the generous support shown to us by our alumni and friends over the past year.

These Award Ceremonies are primarily occasions of great personal significance to our students, together with their families and friends, but they are also academic and civic ceremonies, which are of considerable importance to our town and County.

I hope that you will all – our graduates, friends and families, and the many guests of the University of Northampton – enjoy these ceremonies and take pride in the achievement of our students and our University.

Professor Anne-Marie Kilday
Vice Chancellor

The University of Northampton

Reverend Richard Coles The Chancellor.

Reverend Richard Coles was born in Northampton and educated at Wellingborough School and later King's College London, where he studied Theology. He holds an MA by Research from the University of Leeds.

Ordained in 2005, Reverend Coles was, until 2022, the Vicar of St Mary the Virgin in Finedon, Northamptonshire. Until March this year, he co-presented BBC Radio 4's Saturday Live show and continues to be a regular guest on flagship television shows such as Have I Got News for You, QI and Countdown alongside his weekly podcast, The Rabbit Hole Detectives with Earl Spencer and Dr Cat Jarman.

Reverend Coles was a contestant on the BBC's Strictly Come Dancing in 2017. Since 2014 he has appeared regularly in the Pause for Thought slot on the BBC Radio 2 Breakfast Show and in the summer of 2016 took part in the BBC's prime-time programme Celebrity Masterchef. In the past he co-presented The Big Painting Challenge on BBC One. Reverend Coles was also one half of the 1980s popular music duo, The Communards, with whom he had three top ten hits.

With a particular interest in housing and communities, for six years Richard served as a Board Member of Greatwell Homes, providing social and affordable housing in the borough where he previously lived. In September 2017, he stepped down from the Board to become their Patron.

To date, Reverend Coles has published seven books, two volumes of autobiography, Fathomless Riches and Bringing in the Sheaves, a personal account of life after grief, The Madness of Grief, two volumes of the lives of lesser-known saints, Lives of the Improbable Saints and Legends of the Improbable Saints and three novels, Murder before Evensong, A Death in The Parish and Murder at the Monastery.

Reverend Coles received an honorary doctorate from the University in 2012.

Anne-Marie Kilday The Vice Chancellor.

Professor Anne-Marie Kilday is Vice Chancellor and Professor of Criminal History at the University of Northampton.

She writes and researches on various aspects of criminal history, particularly focusing on violent behaviour and gendered criminality.

Professor Kilday started her academic career in Scotland working at the University of Strathclyde and then the University of Glasgow. She joined Oxford Brookes University in 2000 as a Lecturer in Early Modern History and progressed her career at the University securing various promotions from Principal Lecturer through to Dean. She was promoted into the senior leadership team becoming the Pro Vice-Chancellor for Research and Knowledge Transfer and Impact in 2012 and then became Pro Vice-Chancellor Student Experience & University Community, with institutional responsibility for all aspects of both student and staff experience in 2018 and continued in that role until she left for the University.

Anne-Marie enjoys supporting Oxford United and Celtic football clubs, playing table tennis, reading true crime and crime fiction, and chasing after her four cats Duncan, Angus, Vasquez and Rori, and her three dogs Scruffy, Aeryn and Vada!

Becky Bradshaw Chief Operating Officer and Deputy Vice Chancellor.

Becky has worked in the higher education sector for over 20 years taking her current position as Chief Operating Officer and Deputy to the Vice Chancellor at the University of Northampton in 2023. Becky has institutional responsibility for strategic operations, supporting the Vice Chancellor with development and delivering of the University's strategy, and providing strategic leadership and oversight to the majority of professional services.

Becky has a background in health, safety and risk management, and led the operationalisation of the University of Northampton's new and innovative Waterside Campus, alongside their strategic response to the Coronavirus pandemic. She is passionate about social impact, the influence of Universities on their local and regional communities and economies, and the positive impact of professional services on the student experience, in addition to sustainability and environmental improvement, and has led development of both the University's Sustainability and Estates strategies.

She sits on several strategic boards locally, including the SEMLEP Waterside Enterprise Zone Board, and Northampton Forward, and often contributes to sector wide working and advisory groups.

Andy Burman Chair, Board of Governors.

Andy is a graduate of Sheffield Hallam University, where he was also a Students' Union Vice President. Since then he has a work history spanning central and local government, the NHS, the not for profit sector and working closely with the Higher Education sector. He was previously CEO of the British Dietetic Association for nearly 20 years and has over 10 years' experience as a governance expert: advising the not for profit sector both in the UK and internationally.

He holds several trustee and Non-Executive Director and advisory positions on Boards of charities and companies in the UK. He has worked in the health sector for over 25 years, is a visiting lecturer on governance and ethics and speaks both nationally and internationally on Board development and governance for professional and membership bodies. In addition, he has been involved with key strategic government projects and reviews in recent years. He was involved with the implementation of the Nightingale Hospitals at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic and was a member of the Board leading the review of NHS Hospital Food.

Andy has a long history with Northampton, having lived in the area previously but is still a regular supporter at Northampton Saints RFC.

The History of the University of Northampton.

1261-1265

Northampton sanctioned by Henry III as an alternative place to study for students displaced from Oxford and Cambridge universities during a period of civil unrest.

1911

Science & Technology found their first formal home in the old Northampton Grammar School premises at Abington Square & Art settled nearby in Abington Street.

1924

Plans were underway for a purpose-built College of Technology.

1932

The College of Technology on St George's Avenue Campus formally opened.

1972

The emerging Northampton College partners with Kirkby Fields College of Education in Moulton Park for teacher training.

1975

Amalgamation of the College of Education with the College of Art and Technology to form Nene College.

1937

The College of Art opened at St George's Campus.

1978

The National Leathersellers' Centre relocated to Northampton

1993 - 1994

The college added St Andrew's School of Occupational Therapy & Sir Gordon Roberts College of Nursing and Midwifery to the school of health.

August 2005

University College Northampton is awarded formal university status and full research degree awarding powers becoming the University of Northampton.

1981

The University welcomed the first cohort of students at the new, purpose-built Waterside Campus.

2023-2024 Current News.

SEPTEMBER 2023

The University of Northampton was awarded Silver in the Teaching Excellence Framework.

Also known as the TEF, this is a national scheme run by the Office for Students (OfS) that assesses and rates universities and colleges for excellence in the quality and standards of their undergraduate education.

UON Vice Chancellor Anne-Marie Kilday said: "We are delighted to have received a Silver award in the 2023 Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF), and very proud of all the UON staff and Students' Union staff and officers whose work contributed to this outcome."

NOVEMBER 2023

The local radio station for Northampton has reason to celebrate after one of its presenters won a top award for his coverage of the late Queen's life and reign.

NLive Radio is part of University of Northampton (UON). The station is mostly staffed by non-UON volunteers, including John Leivers.

For his coverage of the event, John received the Gold Award. John says: "I am so happy to have been awarded gold by the judges. The story of the passing of the Queen was an international event, and our show told the local story of her death."

OCTOBER 2023

The diverse, vibrant and rebellious character of Northampton has been captured in a new installation at the entrance to the University of Northampton's Waterside Bar.

Brainchild of Senior Marketing Lecturer Kardi Somerfield, the 'I Spy' installation depicts hundreds of people, real, or inspired by real people, as well as the architecture and folklore of the town.

Visitors interact by going online and accepting 'Where's Wally' style challenges to find particular people, buildings or hidden elements in the installation.

DECEMBER 2023

A leading professional body's accreditation of the University of Northampton's Biomedical Science degree has given a massive boost to the employment credentials of future graduates.

Accreditation of the course by the Institute of Biomedical Science (IBMS) confirms it is relevant to current professional practice.

Deputy Head of Subject for Science and Programme Lead for Biomedical Science, Dr Jodie Score, said: "Accreditation from IBMS is very significant for the University of Northampton, which we are immensely proud of achieving."

"The accreditation for this programme demonstrates our offer of a solid scientific education to students, including practical, analytical and interpretive skills."

JANUARY 2024

An accounting and finance graduate from the University of Northampton has followed his passion for business to reach the best seller lists on Amazon.

30-year-old Adam Niazi is now a Corporate and Investment Banking Business Manager at one of the largest investment banks in the world. His guide to leadership, 'Becoming a Strategic Business Leader: The Ultimate All-In-One-Guide' was ranked 17 on Amazon's Best Sellers in MBA Reference & Education.

It was lights, camera, action for two teams of students at the University of Northampton, who put their directing skills to the max and submitted short films as part of a local film festival.

Northampton Film Festival is non-profit and exists to increase access to the film and creative industries. This year, the festival's sold-out inaugural screening was hosted by the University of Northampton, alongside a networking and awards event.

"It's vital for our students to get a real taste of submitting their creative work to film festivals" said UON's Deputy Head of Culture: Media, Film and Special Effects, Anthony Stepniak.

Graduates who met and married during their degrees are striding toward providing much-needed healthcare on a beautiful island.

With Changemaking zeal, Zahra and Usama decided to set up their own clinic to bring good foot healthcare a step closer to the people of Curepipe town, with Zahra as the podiatry experts and Usama ensuring the clinic's books balance. The Clinic - Podiatry For All - is now open, and trade has been brisk.

APRIL 2024

After the British Council announced its finalists for the 2024 Study UK Alumni Awards, one University of Northampton graduate has been named among the finalists for these prestigious awards.

Jebin Johny has been named finalist in the Alumni Award's Science and Sustainability category, which recognises alumni who have distinguished themselves through their career and achievements in the world of science and sustainability, and who can demonstrate the impact and scale of their achievements in their profession, and beyond.

These international awards celebrate UK higher education and the achievements of UK alumni all over the world.

"Reflecting on my journey so far, I truly am living my dream life at the moment. I always dreamt of a career and life like this, and I am thankful to all that has led me to where I am today."

Celebration of University Professors.

The title of Professor recognises an individual's high levels of achievements and standing in their particular area or discipline. Professors have to demonstrate a major contribution to knowledge through either research or consultancy, to teaching, learning and development, or to professional achievement and practice.

At these ceremonies, we are celebrating some of the newest Professors representing a diverse range of disciplines.

These appointments demonstrate the University's growing excellence in research, enterprise and professional practice and are key in supporting the University's ambitions for research and knowledge exchange. The University, our students and communities locally, nationally and further afield benefit from the expertise and commitment these individuals have demonstrated.

Wednesday 8 May at 10am

Professor of Environmental Geoscience, Sian Davis-Vollum.

Professor Sian Davies-Vollum has a background that bridges the subjects of Geology, Geography and Environmental Science. Her work focuses on understanding environmental and climate change in coastal and wetland environments. She is a field researcher whose work has taken her around the world. Her PhD was based in North America and focused on understanding the climate and environmental conditions after the meteorite impact that led to the extinction of the dinosaurs. That was followed by a post-doctoral position at the Smithsonian Institution and a period spent as an academic in the USA where she worked on a diverse range of multi-disciplinary research projects with an environmental focus.

In 2014 Sian had the opportunity to visit Ghana, which led to her developing a new research focus on coastal sustainability in West Africa. She established and co-leads the Resilient Lagoon Network, funded by the Global Challenges Research Fund, which brings together researchers from across the region to work on issues of sustainable coastal governance and development.

Sian is highly regarded in her field. She is a Trustee of the Geological Society, Chair of University Geoscience UK, and chaired a recent review of the QAA Benchmark Statement for Earth and Environmental Science. She is also a Principal Fellow of the Higher Education Academy. She joined the University of Northampton in January 2023 as Professor and Deputy Dean in the Faculty of Arts, Science and Technology.

Wednesday 8 May at 10am

Professor of History, Mark Rotheray.

Mark Rotheray joined the University of Northampton in 2010 after previously obtaining his PhD at the University of Exeter in 2005, taking up the Postan Postdoctoral Research Fellowship at Downing College Cambridge in 2006 and working as a researcher on several large-scale research projects.

Mark is a social historian whose work focuses on the history of emotions. He has published extensively on this topic as well as on demography, gender and masculinities, the country house and the consumer revolution and the history of family. He has published two major volumes with Oxford University Press including Man's Estate: Landed Gentry Masculinities 1660-1900 (2012) and Consumption and the Country House (2016). He has also published in academic journals with international reputation and has an forthcoming with the journal Social History this year entitled 'The Emotional Economy of Pleasure in the Eighteenth Century'. He regularly attends conferences both in the UK and overseas to present his work. He is currently writing a book on the history of anxiety in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

Mark supervises a large number of PhD students at the University working on a range of subjects. He is a fellow of the Royal Historical Society and co-leads the Centre for Historical Studies at the University of Northampton. This research centre aims to build partnerships with heritage sites, archives and museums across Northamptonshire. Mark edits the journal Family and Community History which publishes research from historians in higher education as well as independent scholars.

Graduating Research Students.

A doctorate is the highest award that a university can make for a course of study. It recognises that the researcher has made a significant contribution to human knowledge in their given field. To achieve a doctorate, a candidate will have spent years conducting original research and writing a substantial thesis, which will have been examined by experts in their discipline.

At these ceremonies, we celebrate the achievements of these Postgraduate Research Students. We also recognise those who have supported them along the way, including their supervisors, research collaborators, staff from across the university, and also family and friends. The fascinating projects listed below give a flavour of the excellent cutting-edge research being conducted right across the University of Northampton.

A warm welcome to your Alumni Association.

Congratulations! You are now a member of the UON Alumni Association and are joining an ever-growing number of UON graduates by entering a new stage of your journey. Now that you have gained your qualification, the Alumni office is here to provide you with everything you need to help navigate your life after graduation.

Your career support.

As a graduate of UON you are eligible for lifelong support from our careers and employability services. Be it support with creating/updating a CV, access to recruitment fairs and networking opportunities, or expert one on one advice, the team are there to help.

Unitemps is also available for graduates looking for part time work or graduate opportunities so remember to check their website, www.unitemps.com, to see what they have to offer.

Don't stop now.

You're now eligible for 20% discount on postgraduate study at the University of Northampton. If you're not quite ready to leave us yet, come and study a Master's! There's more information available online at northampton.ac.uk/postgraduate/

Keep in touch.

We are on hand to help you stay in contact with your classmates or lecturers so if there is someone that you have fallen out of touch with, please let us know and we will try to reconnect you where possible. Also, instead of just running formal Alumni events a few times a year, we'd rather work around you. If you're thinking about organising a reunion or creating a small Alumni group in your area please let us know we'd love to help you through the process!

We love to promote our graduates and hear more about what you have been up to after graduation so please remember to let us know about any achievements you gain that you are proud of.

Keep an eye out.

We will be sending you monthly emails in the form of an Alumni newsletter to keep you up to date with news, events, CPD possibilities, careers support and what other Alumni are getting up to.

Help shape the future of UON.

The Graduate Outcomes Survey is the largest annual social survey in the UK. Its goal is to find out what graduates are up to after they leave university, and how their university and their course may have helped. Use your graduate voice to shape the future of the university and help future students by completing the survey which will be sent to you 15 months after graduation.

If you need us.

You have graduated, but that doesn't mean that we have stopped supporting you. If you find you need assistance, be it information about further education, copies of transcripts, careers support or just a reminder of your student number, get in touch and we will be more than happy to help you.

ACADEMIC DRESS BASICS

- Academic caps will vary based on degree level, with mortarboards (square caps) being worn for graduates up to the doctoral level. Doctoral graduates will typically wear a cloth or velvet bonnet with a coloured tassel.
- Hood colours represent both the institution and its faculties. For example, the blue in the image to the right represents the University of Northampton, with the red representing the Faculty of Arts.
- Hood shapes will differ based on the level of the degree. Undergraduates will typically have a simple-shaped hood, while postgraduates will typically have a more complex or full-shaped hood.
- Gown shapes and colours will indicate different degree levels. For example, bachelors degrees will typically have simpler pointed sleeves, while masters degrees will have longer, more elaborate sleeves.

Posthumous Student Awards.

A posthumous award is conferred upon a student who has passed away during their time with the University of Northampton in order to recognise study already completed and acknowledge what would have been achieved.

Tuesday 7 May at 10am Jaiden Blondell, BA Early Childhood Studies.

Jaiden's family write:

Jaiden was a unique, bright, loving soul who touched everyone around her with her infectious laugh and gentle aura. Jaiden was not only an adored daughter but the most caring older sister to her younger siblings. Jaiden loved to sing, socialise and spend quality time with her loved ones. Throughout Jaiden's young life she travelled the world and made extraordinary memories that we will forever cherish.

Jaiden was an aspiring early years practitioner who dreamed of being a counsellor to children and young people. Jaiden worked extremely hard throughout her educational journey whilst navigating dyslexia. However she did not let that define her, or her capabilities. Jaiden battled everyday just like her peers to ensure that she would finally be able to realise her goals. Jaiden was excited for her future. She undoubtedly knew that she would have made an astonishing professional. She would have worked so hard to better people's lives. It is with great honour and pride that Jaiden will be honoured for her achievements. Jaiden was deeply loved and will be forever missed by her family and friends. To all those who knew Jaiden we would like to acknowledge and express our sadness for your loss.

Tanya Richardson writes:

Jaiden was a student at the University of Northampton studying Early Childhood Studies and was just coming to the end of her second year of study. The course she was doing is designed for those who want to work with children up to the age of 8 years old. As part of the requirements for entry onto the course students are asked to demonstrate their passion for working with children and Jaiden demonstrated this passion in bucket loads! She was an exceptional individual who touched the lives of many with her compassion and warm personality. She wanted to make a difference in the lives of children and had a particular passion for supporting those children with additional needs and found learning difficult.

She was a shining example of kindness and empathy. Her dedication to children's well-being and her strong advocacy for them leaves a lasting legacy of positive impact. Part of the course requires students to go on placement and work with children firsthand – taking what they have learnt in the lecture room into practice. Whilst the students are on placement, they are visited by one of the university team and observed working alongside the children. A lecturer who visited Jaiden whilst on placement recalls how she responded to a child with special educational needs in a way that was a beautiful testament to her innate empathy and nurturing spirit. Jaiden always had very good reports from placement and was a natural around the children and when working with other professionals.

As a student at university, she embraced life with a joyful spirit and a wonderful sense of humour, making those around her feel uplifted. She was an involved member of classes and she worked well with others – always having something insightful to say and to share. Her compassionate nature and caring demeanour made her a truly cherished friend and a source of inspiration for others.

Jaiden adored her little brother and spoke freely about him being such a big and special part of her life. She often shared photos, videos and stories with us of his encounters and his achievements. She was very proud every time he hit another milestone and he obviously brought so much love and joy to her life.

The last assignment that Jaiden submitted was a presentation that she prepared about creativity, and she was asked to reflect on her creative journey. She said in her presentation: "I see my creative journey going through uni as a small seed growing into a flower". When summing up her second year of study, she talks, at the end of her presentation about how her creativity was enhanced throughout the course and I quote Jaiden here, where she said:

"The flower has blossomed into a beautiful, colourful flower"

All of those who knew her at university will remember her kindness, compassion, and the fun she brought to those around her. She most certainly was the beautiful colourful flower that she described herself as and will be remembered fondly. The university intend to recognise her work and will be awarding a certificate to acknowledge the hard work and commitment that Jaiden showed to her studies. The beautiful colourful flower will be remembered by us all forever.

Wednesday 8 May at 10am Ghazala Butt, Doctor of Philosophy.

Ghazala's family write:

Ghazala was a mother, sister, confidante and friend to many of us. She was committed to improving her knowledge and would often share her enthusiasm of reading and writing with all that had the privilege of knowing her. A testament to her love and dedication to learning was that she completed all her educational ambitions after her marriage and children. This final Doctorate was especially difficult due to her ill health and is particularly poignant as she is not here to receive the accolades she richly deserves.

We celebrate her and her achievements, and hope she inspires many who are starting on their educational journey to pursue it with passion, commitment and enjoyment, exactly as she always did. We want to thank all who supported her through her endeavours, please know that she was extremely grateful, as are we. We know we can easily say that her educational days were some of the happiest moments of her short and enriched life.

Janet M. Wilson writes:

Ghazala was always passionate about her research on the British Asian writer Hanif Kureishi during her time at Northampton. She interviewed him and reviewed his work for the Journal of Postcolonial Writing, but she was also enthusiastic about other projects, and was always involved in our postcolonial research culture over the years as a vital participant in seminars, workshops and conferences: in 2020 she joined our AHRC-funded Diaspora Screen Media Network, and wrote an entertaining blog about falling in love with Daniel Day Lewis (star of Stephen Frears's film collaboration with Kureishi, My Beautiful Laundrette); and she also speaks more critically of the film, and her concern for better representation of the Asian in Birmingham community that she grew up with.

In the forthcoming issue of the Journal of Postcolonial Writing 60 (2) containing the proceedings of the conferences held by the Network there will be a dedication to the memory of Ghazala.

Although she was studying, first for her MA and then her PhD, Ghazala always seemed to be more of a colleague than a student. She was intellectually lively, always caring and infinitely generous. I remember her most of all for her gift of friendship, one which I greatly miss.

Sonya Andermahr writes:

My memories of Ghazala are that she was passionate about literature and books. She filled her house with books and loved the physical quality of them as well as their inspiring contents. She also loved stationery and had a wonderful collection of notebooks and used a real fountain pen. She was very well read and knew her PhD thesis topic on the works of Hanif Kureishi inside out. She had communicated with him by email and had hoped to interview him in person for her dissertation. Ghazala was interested in a wide range of topics and loved chatting about films, music, food and cooking, and feminism. Ghazala loved to learn about new things and her positive approach to life was both infectious and inspiring.

whilst working as an apprentice engineer at Redmans Engine Centre.

On completion of his college course, Dale joined the Royal Air Force as an Aircraft Technician (Mechanical) in 2015 and on completion of initial and trade training, he served on V Sqn SENTINEL aircraft at RAF Waddington, Lincolnshire. Whilst deployed supporting operations in the middle east, Dale suffered an injury which would lead to him being medically discharged from the service in 2020, cutting short what would have been a long and successful RAF career.

Dale then found work at Bakkavor for a short period before moving onto his final place of work at Applus 3c at Silverstone, starting as a Test Technician, Dale's industrious nature impressed, and he was quickly promoted to Engineer and later Engineer Supervisor. Dale had near-term aspirations to work as an Engineer at Euronics in York however his life was cut short before he could put his plan into action.

Before all else, Dale was a devoted father to his two young daughters, a beloved son, brother, and friend. Affectionately called Dada by his girls, Dale was born to be a great parent, naturally paternal with his warmth, kindness, and compassion. A gentle giant with a phenomenal sense of humour, Dale was loved by his family and friends as a man who always had time to help someone in need, a man who never wanted anything in return. Since childhood, Dale was a passionate supporter of Chelsea Football Club and a lover of football in general. His final passion was his motorcycle, Dale was a keen and talented motorcyclist who enjoyed the freedom of riding as an escape from the darkness.

Dale lost his life in a Motorcycle Road Traffic Collision on 2nd Jan 2024 aged just 27.

Dale Allan Holmes 05-08-1996 – 02-01-2024.

John Paintin writes:

Dale's was a life full of promise. Advancing in his chosen career as an Engineer, Dale was also a promising Electrical Engineering student.

Coming so soon after the Winter break, at the beginning of the New Year, his death came as a profound shock to both the staff of the Engineering Department at Bedford College and to his fellow students.

Dale began his studies at Bedford College with the level 3 Bridging course, before progressing to his chosen qualification, the Higher National Certificate (HNC) in Electrical & Electronic Engineering. My memories of Dale are of a hard-working and conscientious student – he worked quietly with a minimum of fuss and bother and produced work of high quality.

When his life was tragically cut short, he had completed almost all the assessment work for the HNC and was just a few weeks away from completing the qualification.

We are profoundly grateful to the University of Northampton for making this posthumous award. On this sad day which should have been for Dale and his family to celebrate, we dedicate this HNC Qualification to his family and to the memory of this young and talented Engineer.

Wednesday 8 May at 10am

Dale Holmes, HNC Electrical & Electronic Engineering.

Dale's family write:

Dale Allan Holmes was born on the 5th of August 1996 in Bradford, West Yorkshire. He spent his early years in Wakefield, before moving to Fleetwood, Lancashire where he attended Fleetwood High School. Upon graduating, he attended Blackpool & Fylde College where he studied Professional Cookery and later a L3 Extended Diploma in Engineering where he gained the highest possible award of triple distinction star*

Coat of Arms.

The themes associated with the Coat of arms are essentially concerned with the physical location of the University within the Borough of Northampton and the County of Northamptonshire, together with the central activities of the University.

The Borough is depicted in the left-hand supporter, a lion rampant, and in the central triple-turreted castle. It is also evident in the similar castle footstools for both supporters. The Main County reference is in the right-hand supporter of a bull with a golden chain and is depicted in the Tudor rose held by the roebuck. The County colours of blue, green and silver are also a feature of the Coat of Arms.

The linking of Borough and County through the imagery of the River Nene is strongly pursued with two horizontal representations of the river, one on the central shield and one below the supporters.

The University's activities are reflected in the central feature of books of learning and the vocational technology perspective is illustrated by linked cogwheels. The University's concern with learning is nicely encapsulated in the motto 'Ne Nesciamus' - Let us not be ignorant'. The first four letters spelling Nene, for Nene College, an antecedent institution title of the University of Northampton.

Finally, The University's long association with the Worshipful Company of Leathersellers is depicted by the inclusion of the roebuck from its own coat of arms.
