Chancellor's Welcome.

It is my great pleasure to welcome graduands and guests to the University of Northampton Award Ceremonies 2025. It is an honour and privilege for me to be Chancellor of the University, and I would, therefore, like to add my personal and warmest congratulations to the graduands on this landmark achievement. The recognition that this award ceremony gives is theirs alone, in that without their efforts we could not be here. Well done every single one of you.

The Award Ceremonies are not only the culmination of the graduand's learning and recognise the achievement of their qualification, but also celebrate the support and counsel provided to them by staff of the University, fellow graduands and their family and friends. We welcome these family members and friends to the University, some of whom may have travelled considerable distances to join us here today, and hope that everyone will enjoy the ceremonies and being part, albeit for a short time, of the wider University community.

A word for our graduands - I know you will have had new experiences, opportunities and much inspiration during your studies. Whatever the future holds for you now, whether it's further study, or entering or returning to the world of work, may I wish you every success.

Reverend Richard Coles

Chancellor

The University of Northampton

Vice Chancellor's Welcome.

I join the Chancellor in welcoming you most warmly to these Awards Ceremonies.

The University of Northampton, through its antecedent institutions, has a long and distinguished history and today is a vibrant institution with over 14,000 students from over 100 countries around the world, 2,000 staff and an annual turnover of almost £180m.

In addition to extensive undergraduate, postgraduate and research degrees, the University offers professional training in a wide range of disciplines related to the employment needs of the region. We welcome part-time students and adult learners undertaking professional and career development. We are committed to working in strategic partnership with a diverse range of organisations in support of those able to benefit from higher education.

Our research output, a vital component underpinning a quality student experience, continues to grow, as does our income generated from enterprise and other commercial activities. At the same time wider engagement by staff in outward-facing activity enables them to remain at the cutting edge of their subject areas. Finally, from a position of privilege as the only university in the County, we would like to acknowledge the generous support shown to us by our alumni and friends over the past year.

These Award Ceremonies are primarily occasions of great personal significance to our students, together with their families and friends, but they are also academic and civic ceremonies, which are of considerable importance to our town and County.

I hope that you will all – our graduates, friends and families, and the many guests of the University of Northampton – enjoy these ceremonies and take pride in the achievement of our students and our University.

Professor Anne-Marie Kilday

Vice Chancellor

The University of Northampton

Reverend Richard Coles | The Chancellor.

Reverend Richard Coles was born in Northampton and educated at Wellingborough School before studying Theology at King's College London. He later earned an MA by Research from the University of Leeds.

Ordained in 2005, he served as Vicar of St Mary the Virgin in Finedon, Northamptonshire until 2022. A familiar voice on BBC Radio 4, he co-hosted Saturday Live until March 2023 and remains a regular presence on popular television programmes including Have I Got News for You, QI, and Countdown. He also co-hosts the weekly podcast The Rabbit Hole Detectives alongside Earl Spencer and Dr Cat Jarman.

Reverend Coles has made memorable appearances on several entertainment TV shows, including Strictly Come Dancing in 2017, Celebrity Masterchef in 2016, and co-presenting The Big Painting Challenge in 2017. Richard has also regularly appeared in the Pause for Thought slot on the BBC Radio 2 Breakfast Show. In 2024, he joined the cast of I'm a Celebrity... Get Me Out of Here! and finished in third place. Earlier in his career, he was one half of the chart-topping 1980s pop duo The Communards, known for three top ten hits.

Passionate about housing and community development, he served for six years on the Board of Greatwell Homes, a provider of social and affordable housing in his former borough. In 2017, he transitioned from Board Member to Patron.

Reverend Coles is a prolific author whose non-fiction works span a wide range of subjects. His two Autobiographies, Fathomless Riches and Bringing in the Sheaves offer candid reflections on faith, fame and personal transformation. In The Madness of Grief he shares a deeply moving account of loss and mourning. Two collections on lesser-known saints, Lives of the Improbable Saints and Legend of the Improbable Saints. A travelogue, Coles to Jerusalem and The Rabbit Hole Book a collection of trivia and unexpected facts.

In addition to his non-fiction, Reverend Coles is the creator of the acclaimed Canon Clement Mysteries, a crime fiction series featuring the titles, Murder before Evensong, A Death in the Parish, Murder at the Monastery, Murder Under the Mistletoe and A Death on Location. The first novel in this series was recently adapted for television and premiered in the UK on Channel 5 in October 2025.

In recognition of his contributions, he was awarded honorary doctorates from the University of Northampton in 2012 and the University of Warwick in 2016.

Reverend Coles moved to East Sussex in May 2022. He said: "I'll be living in a charming 18th-century cottage with a bow window that looms over the street affording a privileged view of my neighbours' comings and goings, as the scent of lavender floats across the village green."

Dallas Campbell | Pro Chancellor.

Dallas is on a mission to take science out of the lab and into people's lives, but he completed his undergraduate degree in Drama at Nene College, an antecedent institution of the University of Northampton, in 1992.

For nearly two decades he's been at the forefront of popular science in the UK. He's presented many of the highest profile factual programmes on television, programmes which lift the curtain on our human planet, aimed at audiences of all ages and backgrounds. These include Bang Goes the Theory, The Gadget Show, The Sky at Night, Stargazing Live, Supersized Earth, Time Scanners, The Science of Stupid, Britain Beneath Your Feet, Horizon, and many more. These productions have taken him to some of the most fascinating and extreme places on Earth, from the top of the Burj Khalifa, to the bottom of a Mexican sewer, to rocket launches in Kazakhstan and everything in between.

Inform, educate and entertain is at the heart of everything Dallas does. Beyond television, he works tirelessly as a STEM ambassador and has been involved with hundreds of educational initiatives world-wide, encouraging young people to think creatively about science and technology, and to embrace the pleasures of finding things out!

His podcast Patented: History of Inventions explores the history of technology and invention. His debut book Ad Astra: An Illustrated Guide to Leaving the Planet was published in 2017 and he is currently writing his second book on the history of space flight.

Mark Lawson | Pro Chancellor.

Mark Lawson was born in Hendon and raised in Leeds. He took his undergraduate degree in English at University College London and became a freelance contributor to numerous publications including the Roman Catholic publication, The Universe and The Times. Since 1995, Mark has written for The Guardian but has also written for The Independent and has twice been TV Critic of the Year, as well as winning many other journalism awards.

Specialising in culture and the arts, Mark is best known for presenting the flagship BBC Radio 4 arts programme Front Row between 1998 and 2014. He is also a Guardian columnist, and presented 'Mark Lawson Talks To...' on BBC Four from 2006 to 2015.

Lawson presented The Late Show on BBC2 in the 1990s. In 2004, Lawson made a documentary for BBC Four called The Truth About Sixties TV, criticising what he called 'golden ageists' who, he said, have a rose-tinted view of television's past.

In addition to his work in print journalism and the broadcast media, Mark has written five books, both fiction and non-fiction. His first, Bloody Margaret is a collection of novellas on late 20th-century politics in the UK, including an eponymous satire concerning Margaret Thatcher. This was followed by The Battle for Room Service, a travelogue of people, politics and culture encountered by Mark as a journalist.

His 1995 book Idlewild is an alternative history novel in which both John F. Kennedy and Marilyn Monroe survived the 1960s. Going Out Live focused on contemporary celebrity culture and the media, and Enough is Enough is a satire set in the government of Harold Wilson during the late 1960s. In his 2016 novel The Allegations, a lecturer at a fictional English university faces disciplinary action and dismissal for bullying and harassment.

In his spare time Mark also supports Northampton Town Football Club.

Lady Phyll | Pro Chancellor.

Phyll Opoku-Gyimah is the nucleus of the award-winning celebration and protest that is UK Black Pride. Founded in 2005, UK Black Pride is Europe's largest celebration for LGBTQI+ people of African, Asian, Caribbean, Middle Eastern and Latin American descent, and is a safe space to celebrate diverse sexualities, gender identities, gender expressions and cultures. UK Black Pride organises an annual celebration during pride month, as well as a variety of activities throughout the year, which promote and advocate for the spiritual, emotional and intellectual health and wellbeing of the communities it represents.

Widely known as Lady Phyll - partly due to her decision to reject an MBE in the New Year's Honours' list to protest Britain's role in formulating anti-LGBTQI+ penal codes across its empire - she was also the executive director of Kaleidoscope Trust, an organisation working to uphold the human rights of LGBTQI+ people around the world. She is a community builder and organiser; an Albert Kennedy Trust patron, and a public speaker focusing on race, gender, sexuality and class.

Lady Phyll's over two decades of dedication to human rights advocacy have left an indelible mark. She's regularly called upon to advise nascent LGBTQI+ organisations around the world to help leaders create cogent organising strategies, establish robust partnership networks and work effectively in service of the LGBTQI+ community and inspire all who strive for equality and justice.

Lady Phyll is also the Secretary for TCEN - The Commonwealth Equality Network; a network of organisations challenging inequality based on sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, and sex characteristics. The Network was set up to give a global voice to LGBTQI+ communities across the Commonwealth and to support joint advocacy to provide an answer to the colonial legacy of homophobia - a Commonwealth solution to a Commonwealth problem.

Morcea Walker | Pro Chancellor.

Born on the island of Jamaica, Morcea has always been proud of her heritage. Aged nine she moved to Great Britain. Her time in Jamaica and the years spent on her own, certainly impacted on her life. It helped give her feelings of belonging and helping.

Morcea has taught in various types of Secondary schools. Teaching is a passion that has driven Morcea throughout her adult life. Morcea believes that working with young people should be treated as a privilege, a joy to be part of opening minds and learning from them.

As an Advisory Teacher (Equalities) Morcea used the Arts as a platform for learning. This has meant that she has promoted the whole issue of gender, race, disability etc through this medium. Morcea became the Co-ordinator for Supplementary Schools in Northamptonshire, and this remains her favourite activity – apart from being a wife, mum, and grandmother! These schools run language and cultural classes including Arabic, Chinese, Polish, African Caribbean, Russian and Gujarati. Her three children are all in jobs that serve the community and are quietly doing their own volunteering as appropriate. Morcea has a true love of the county of Northamptonshire – it's exciting history, parks, countryside, events, towns and much more. Morcea is a Governor at a local school and a Trustee at a number of organisations including Northamptonshire Music and Performing Arts Trust, Northamptonshire Black History Association, Healthwatch – West and North Northamptonshire, Street Pastors and Community Law.

Morcea was awarded an MBE in 2012, appointed as a Deputy Lieutenant in 2017 and was Vice-Lord-Lieutenant of Northamptonshire from 2022-2024

Anne-Marie Kilday | The Vice Chancellor.

Professor Anne-Marie Kilday is Vice Chancellor and Professor of Criminal History at the University of Northampton.

She writes and researches on various aspects of criminal history, particularly focusing on violent behaviour and gendered criminality.

Professor Kilday started her academic career in Scotland working at the University of Strathclyde and then the University of Glasgow. She joined Oxford Brookes University in 2000 as a Lecturer in Early Modern History and progressed her career at the University securing various promotions from Principal Lecturer through to Dean. She was promoted into the senior leadership team becoming the Pro Vice-Chancellor for Research and Knowledge Transfer and Impact in 2012 and then became Pro Vice-Chancellor Student Experience & University Community, with institutional responsibility for all aspects of both student and staff experience in 2018 and continued in that role until she left for the University.

Anne-Marie enjoys supporting Oxford United and Celtic football clubs, playing table tennis, reading true crime and crime fiction, and chasing after her five cats Duncan, Angus, Vasquez, Rori and Boo, and her three dogs Aeryn, Brodie and Vada!

Becky Bradshaw | Deputy Vice Chancellor and Chief Operating Officer.

Becky has worked in the higher education sector for over 20 years taking her current position as Deputy Vice Chancellor and Chief Operating Officer at the University of Northampton in 2023. Becky has institutional responsibility for strategic operations, supporting the Vice Chancellor with development and delivering of the University's strategy, and providing strategic leadership and oversight to the majority of professional services.

Becky has a background in health, safety and risk management, and led the operationalisation of the University of Northampton's new and innovative Waterside Campus, alongside their strategic response to the Coronavirus pandemic. She is passionate about social impact, the influence of Universities on their local and regional communities and economies, and the positive impact of professional services on the student experience, in addition to sustainability and environmental improvement, and has led development of both the University's Sustainability and Estates strategies.

She sits on several strategic boards locally, including the SEMLEP Waterside Enterprise Zone Board, and Northampton Forward, and often contributes to sector wide working and advisory groups.

Andy Burman | Chair, Board of Governors.

Andy is a graduate of Sheffield Hallam University, where he was also a Students' Union Vice President. Since then, he has a work history spanning central and local government, the NHS, the not-for-profit sector and working closely with the Higher Education sector. He was previously CEO of the British Dietetic Association for nearly 20 years and has over 10 years' experience as a governance expert: advising the not-for-profit sector both in the UK and internationally.

He holds several trustee and Non-Executive Director and advisory positions on Boards of charities and companies in the UK. He has worked in the health sector for over 25 years, is a visiting lecturer on governance and ethics and speaks both nationally and internationally on Board development and governance for professional and membership bodies. In addition, he has been involved with key strategic government projects and reviews in recent years. He was involved with the implementation of the Nightingale Hospitals at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic and was a member of the Board leading the review of NHS Hospital Food.

Andy has a long history with Northampton, having lived in the area previously but is still a regular supporter at Northampton Saints RFC.

2025 Current News.

JUNE 2025

The University of Northampton has been ranked among the top 50 UK universities for overall student satisfaction, in the latest data revealed by the Complete University Guide.

Announced on 10 June 2025, the University of Northampton has again progressed overall in the Complete University Guide, showing significant improvement for student satisfaction which has skyrocketed nearly 40 places since 2024.

The grading for student satisfaction is based on how satisfied students are with the quality of teaching they have received while studying at university and is based on the Guide's unique methodology using the 2024 National Student Survey results.

Professor Anne-Marie Kilday, Vice Chancellor celebrates the University's progression and said: "We are both proud and excited that the University of Northampton has demonstrated real strength for student satisfaction in the Complete University Guide..

Thousands of eyes opened to fantastic futures after University of Northampton opened its campus for a day of education, enlightenment, and exploration.

STEAM Northants 2025 – held on Wednesday 11 June – saw academy, college and school students from across the county visit the University for a day of fun and discovery.

More than 3,000 young people explored the worlds of Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Mathematics... and more.

60 schools attended with 220 teachers and education support staff. 54 businesses, charities and organisations sent their teams to showcase careers with them. 30 UON academic teams from all three Faculties were on hand to demonstrate and talk about how their degree programmes.

JULY 2025

A strategy to establish the Silverstone region as a world leader in high-performance innovation was officially launched this week at the Silverstone Technology Cluster's (STC) Innovation and Growth Conference.

At the heart of the project is the University of Northampton, whose leadership and expertise helped unite public, private, academic and community sectors in shaping the vision of the future for the region.

The University's contribution to the Silverstone Vision 2035 shows how higher education institutions can lead from the front—not just as educators, but as strategic partners in economic development. We are proud to help shape a future that benefits our students, our region, and the wider UK innovation economy.

Also speaking at the STC event was Becky Bradshaw, UON's Deputy Vice Chancellor and Chief Operating Officer who presented the University's Northamptonshire Innovation Ecosystem Report.

JULY 2025

The sun was shining in Northampton town as the festivities took place for this year's Northampton Pride.

On Saturday 12 July, hundreds of local people swarmed to the Market Square to celebrate Northampton's eighth annual Pride parade and festival – including representatives from the University of Northampton.

Pride is a valuable opportunity to celebrate the LGBTQ+ community in West Northamptonshire and give residents the opportunity to come together to stand in solidarity with our LGBTQ+ communities

After the Pride Parade whistled its way through the streets of the town centre, entertainment and rainbow flags were in no short supply with stilt walkers, hula hoopers, Burlesque dancers, Drag Queens and musical performances keeping attendees entertained throughout the afternoon.

2025 Current News.

AUGUST 2025

UON's Faculty of Business and Law has been awarded the prestigious Small Business Charter accreditation for three years.

This recognition highlights the Faculty's and UON's dedicated support for entrepreneurship and small business growth, with a clear focus on community engagement and real-world applicability.

The panel of assessors commended the Faculty for its impact on the local small business community and its inclusive and collaborative approach across disciplines.

The Small Business Charter is an accreditation assessed by small business leaders, to recognise business schools which are centres of excellence in supporting small businesses, student enterprise, and the local economy.

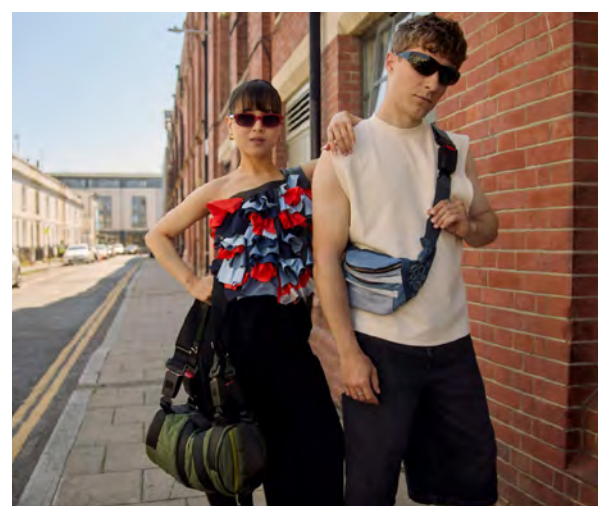

SEPTEMBER 2025

Students of Fashion, Textiles and Footwear at the University of Northampton – Anna Shirley, Alice Joy Homer, Joanna Penc and Niall Walker – were challenged this summer to come up with a collection of fashion designs based entirely around seatbelts for scrap car price comparison service, Scrap Car Comparison.

Developed within a 10-week industry collaboration, 'The Essential Collection' features wearable, unisex items that incorporate both seatbelt straps and buckles, to highlight the importance of wearing a seatbelt in a car. The results; innovative, powerful designs using unconventional, sustainable materials.

Programme Leader for Fashion, Emmeline Child said: "This project evidences how fashion reflects society and can be a powerful tool to engage in important social issues."

OCTOBER 2025

One of University of Northampton's most popular subject areas marks a big milestone this year, celebrating 50 years educating people about human emotions and motivations.

Over the past half century, thousands of people have graduated with an undergraduate degree in psychology at UON, equipping them to work in a wide array of sectors and use their insights to understand and help others.

The first full, psychology undergraduate degree – a BA/BSc Combined Studies – welcomed its first students during the inaugural 1975/1976 academic year for Nene College.

Dr David Saunders, Head of the School of Psychology and Behavioural Sciences has been part of UON's Psychology team since 2011. He says: "It is a privilege to be part of this journey and to celebrate the remarkable contributions of colleagues past and present, as well as the achievements of our students and graduates. Here's to the next half century of Psychology at University of Northampton."

OCTOBER 2025

The University of Northampton's flagship Student Futures Expo has wrapped up its biggest year yet - with over 2,080 students attending across three dynamic days, more than doubling student engagement in just two years.

Held from 14th – 16th October, nearly 400 students attended workshops and panel sessions on day one, setting a strong tone for the employer days that followed.

Martin Perfect, Director of Student Futures said: "This was the most ambitious Expo we've delivered, and we are really proud of the results.

"Providing students with the opportunities to talk to and learn from inspiring Alumni and our employer, partners is crucial for both development and securing work experience and graduate roles."

Celebrating Excellence at the University of Northampton: The STAAR Awards

The Student Teaching, Activities and Academic Representation Awards (STAAR Awards) shine a spotlight on the remarkable contributions made by University of Northampton staff, student volunteers, and society members throughout the academic year.

For our dedicated staff, the STAAR Awards honour educators who bring creativity to the classroom, champion inclusivity, and leave a lasting mark on student achievement. Whether through face-to-face teaching, digital platforms, or hands-on learning experiences, these individuals inspire and elevate the learning journey.

For our incredible student volunteers, the awards celebrate those who go above and beyond to support their peers and communities. From organising impactful fundraisers and energising campus events to offering unwavering support to fellow students, these unsung heroes exemplify the spirit of service and leadership.

The STAAR awards are given annually at an awards dinner held by the Northampton Students' Union to celebrate the winners.

Celebration of University Professors.

The title of Professor recognises an individual's high levels of achievements and standing in their particular area or discipline. Professors have to demonstrate a major contribution to knowledge through either research or consultancy, to teaching, learning and development, or to professional achievement and practice.

At these ceremonies, we are celebrating some of the newest Professors representing a diverse range of disciplines.

These appointments demonstrate the University's growing excellence in research, enterprise and professional practice and are key in supporting the University's ambitions for research and knowledge exchange. The University, our students and communities locally, nationally and further afield benefit from the expertise and commitment these individuals have demonstrated.

Tuesday 11 November at 4pm

Professor of Learning and Teaching Innovation, Simon Sneddon.

Simon arrived as a law lecturer at what was then University College Northampton from Cambridge in October 2000. As well as a great teacher, an outstanding researcher and a real leader in the development of pedagogic practice across the university and beyond, he was unfailingly collegiate in his approach, inclusive and generous to colleagues.

He has always been an innovative and engaging teacher and relatively quickly began to influence learning and teaching at Northampton, becoming a Senior Lecturer in 2005, LLM Course Leader in 2007 and winning a University Teaching Fellowship in 2008.

He has always been interested in the application of technology to learning and teaching including the early adoption of video and audio feedback and the development of online content and delivery (winning best practice in his use of the Virtual Learning Environment twice).

Simon became a Fellow of the HEA in 2007 and Senior Fellow in 2015, Associate Professor Learning and Teaching in 2022 and the Faculty of Business and Law lead for learning, teaching and student experience from 2024.

Simon has always been an agile researcher, mixing the various streams of his research, focusing on organised crime, trafficking of endangered species, environmental law and environmental justice, nuclear power and the control of illicit firearms as well as his work on learning and teaching.

His networks show the same range and influence, from external examining at Bucks New and Liverpool John Moores universities to Executive Committee membership of the Society of Legal Scholars and the slightly dubious sounding role of Organised Crime Co-Convenor for the Socio Legal Studies Association. He is a Freeman of the Worshipful Company of Educators, a reviewer for four journals and co-editor of UON's online journal 'Enhancing the Learner Experience in HE'. Closer to home he has served two terms as Senate representative on the University's governing council.

Simon is a worthy recipient of the title Professor of Learning and Teaching Innovation, and he will continue to make a huge impact on UON and the wider sector.

Thursday 13 November at 10am

Professor of Cardiovascular Physiology, Tony Baross.

Tony began his academic journey achieving a First-Class Honours BSc Sport Science from Christ Church College Canterbury, followed by an MSc Exercise & Health Behaviour with Honours from The Central University London.

In 1998, he joined Nene College to complete a PhD. As the college evolved, becoming University College Northampton in 1999 and later the University of Northampton in 2005, so did Tony's career. He progressed from lecturer to Senior Lecturer and then Field Chair. Although his PhD journey took longer than expected, he began his doctoral research in 2005 and successfully completed in 2011 and at that point made the decision to focus on his research.

Tony's research has focused on isometric exercise as a therapeutic intervention to reduce blood pressure. Since publishing his first paper in 2012, he has authored over 25 peer-reviewed publications, including in prestigious Q1 journals such as Scientific Reports and the Journal of Hypertension. He is a regular presenter at international conferences, notably the European College of Sport Science and the American Society of Hypertension.

His innovative work has led to the co-development of the ISO Band, a training device designed to support isometric therapy, which is currently undergoing medical device registration. The ISO Band has also become the foundation of a university spinout company, with Tony playing a central role in its development.

His research has had a meaningful impact on the local community, demonstrating a career defined by academic excellence, pioneering innovation, and long-standing dedication to the University of Northampton. His academic contributions were formally recognised with the award of Associate Professorship in 2022, and he has now been appointed Professor of Cardiovascular Physiology.

Graduating Research Students.

A doctorate is the highest award that a university can make for a course of study. It recognises that the researcher has made a significant contribution to human knowledge in their given field. To achieve a doctorate, a candidate will have spent years conducting original research and writing a substantial thesis, which will have been examined by experts in their discipline.

At these ceremonies, we celebrate the achievements of these Postgraduate Research Students. We also recognise those who have supported them along the way, including their supervisors, research collaborators, staff from across the university, and also family and friends. The fascinating projects listed below give a flavour of the excellent cutting-edge research being conducted right across the University of Northampton.

A warm welcome to your Alumni Association.

Congratulations! You are now a member of the UON Alumni Association and are joining an ever-growing number of UON graduates by entering a new stage of your journey. Now that you have gained your qualification, the Alumni office is here to provide you with everything you need to help navigate your life after graduation.

Your career support.

As a graduate of UON you are eligible for lifelong support from our careers and employability services. Be it support with creating/updating a CV, access to recruitment fairs and networking opportunities, or expert one on one advice, the team are there to help.

Unitemps is also available for graduates looking for part time work or graduate opportunities so remember to check their website, www.unitemps.com, to see what they have to offer.

Don't stop now.

You're now eligible for 20% discount on postgraduate study at the University of Northampton. If you're not quite ready to leave us yet, come and study a Master's! There's more information available online at northampton.ac.uk/postgraduate/

Keep in touch.

We are on hand to help you stay in contact with your classmates or lecturers so if there is someone that you have fallen out of touch with, please let us know and we will try to reconnect you where possible. Also, instead of just running formal Alumni events a few times a year, we'd rather work around you. If you're thinking about organising a reunion or creating a small Alumni group in your area please let us know – we'd love to help you through the process!

We love to promote our graduates and hear more about what you have been up to after graduation so please remember to let us know about any achievements you gain that you are proud of.

Keep an eye out.

We will be sending you monthly emails in the form of an Alumni newsletter to keep you up to date with news, events, CPD possibilities, careers support and what other Alumni are getting up to.

Help shape the future of UON.

The Graduate Outcomes Survey is the largest annual social survey in the UK. Its goal is to find out what graduates are up to after they leave university, and how their university and their course may have helped. Use your graduate voice to shape the future of the university and help future students by completing the survey which will be sent to you 15 months after graduation.

If you need us.

You have graduated, but that doesn't mean that we have stopped supporting you. If you find you need assistance, be it information about further education, careers support or just a reminder of your student number, get in touch and we will be more than happy to help you.

Email: alumni@northampton.ac.uk

SUSTAINABLE GRADS

All our black ceremonial gowns are made from certified recycled materials, saving the equivalent of 30 plastic bottles from polluting the earth with every gown made.

ACADEMIC DRESS BASICS

- 1 Academic caps will vary based on degree level, with mortarboards (square caps) being worn for graduates up to the doctoral level. Doctoral graduates will typically wear a cloth or velvet bonnet with a coloured tassel.
- 2 Hood colours represent both the institution and its faculties. For example, the blue in the image to the right represents the University of Northampton, with the red representing the Faculty of Arts.
- 3 Hood shapes will differ based on the level of the degree. Undergraduates will typically have a simple-shaped hood, while postgraduates will typically have a more complex or full-shaped hood.
- 4 Gown shapes and colours will indicate different degree levels. For example, bachelors degrees will typically have simpler pointed sleeves, while masters degrees will have longer, more elaborate sleeves.

Photography and mobile phones.

Please do not move from your seats to take photographs or video recordings during the ceremony and be considerate of those seated around you. Please also ensure that your mobile phones are switched to silent for the duration of the ceremony.

Applause.

You are invited to applaud the presentation of the graduates to recognise their hard work and achievement and to celebrate their success. Please applaud only after the student's names are called so that each student's name can be heard clearly when announced.

Health and Safety.

In the event of an emergency, please remain seated until directed otherwise.

Congratulations!

All staff at the University of Northampton would like to congratulate all graduating students on their success.

This is your day, take the time to celebrate your amazing achievements.

We are proud of you.

Coat of Arms.

The themes associated with the Coat of arms are essentially concerned with the physical location of the University within the Borough of Northampton and the County of Northamptonshire, together with the central activities of the University.

The Borough is depicted in the left-hand supporter, a lion rampant, and in the central triple-turreted castle. It is also evident in the similar castle footstools for both supporters. The Main County reference is in the right-hand supporter of a bull with a golden chain and is depicted in the Tudor rose held by the roebuck. The County colours of blue, green and silver are also a feature of the Coat of Arms.

The linking of Borough and County through the imagery of the River Nene is strongly pursued with two horizontal representations of the river, one on the central shield and one below the supporters.

The University's activities are reflected in the central feature of books of learning, and the vocational technology perspective is illustrated by linked cogwheels. The University's concern with learning is nicely encapsulated in the motto 'Ne Nesciamus' - Let us not be ignorant'. The first four letters spelling Nene, for Nene College, an antecedent institution title of the University of Northampton.

Finally, The University's long association with the Worshipful Company of Leathersellers is depicted by the inclusion of the roebuck from its own coat of arms.
